

Reminder of the Month

Icebreakers:

- Behavioral Shopping Spree
- DiSC B-I-N-G-O
- Quick-DiSC Card Game

You may not want to admit it, but everyone enjoys time with the family – even if that time is just a short visit. Family is our personal resource and foundation for the roads we travel. Thanksgiving is known as a family day. How will you spend your Thanksgiving??

D – Dominance

A large family gathering makes you cringe. You will stop by the grocery store on the way to bring the dish you offered to 'make'. Your plan is to get in, eat quickly and be home early.

i – influence

Of course the 'i's will offer to host the Thanksgiving meal. Closest relatives and extended family are invited. Turkey with ALL the trimmings will be served. Out of town guests are welcome to stay over – but 5am shopping on Black Friday is a must.

C – Conscientious

Newspaper flyers were read and stores were checked to find the best price/lb. on the turkey. Calculations were made to determine what size bird to buy and how much food to make. The day is planned and they are anxious to make it perfect.

S – Steadiness

The 'S's LOVE Thanksgiving as it is one of the best family holidays of the year. A fire is burning in the fireplace, pumpkin pies are baking, and all the traditional favorite foods are being prepared. Family stories and memories are shared throughout the dinner. The day can't last long enough!
